Dear Susan:

We are looking forward to the partnership between Futures for Kids (F4K) and Nash-Rocky Mount Public Schools. F4K will be a valuable resource as we seek to nurture and educate every child and start them on a journey of life-long learning.

Education is hope, providing choices and expanding horizons. F4K creates a safe environment for the students to explore those horizons, fostering a sense of curiosity about the opportunities available to them. The interactive, online nature of the program also allows families and the community to support the students with information, guidance and encouragement. This connection is crucial to reinforcing the relevance of education and promoting an understanding of the steps necessary to achieve success.

We believe education is a shared responsibility among schools, families and communities, and through the F4K program we can work together to do great things for our students.

Sincerely,

Richard A. McMahon
Superintendent
