Dear Susan,

We believe that education is a sound investment for society, and we look forward to utilizing Futures for Kids (F4K) to proactively manage that investment in Wayne County Schools.

F4K's tools will help to prepare our students for life in the 21st Century and be globally competitive as they explore the extensive database of real-world careers across an array of ever-changing industries. The ability to personalize the experience for each student and store, update and share their interests and accomplishments with teachers, advisors and family elevates F4K beyond simply providing information. Instead, students understand what they can do now to assure their own success and receive guidance, encouragement and accountability from educators, parents, and members of the community. Wayne County Public Schools has a reputation for active parental and community involvement, and F4K will help us make the most of this tremendous asset.

Sincerely,

Dr. Steven D. Taylor
